

Scaling (E4): each zone reads one difference; the board composes them a row of K pull-only press-pads, each pressing one facet — world-model capacity = 2^K (zones the board binds)

The world model is built by the network of coupled zones — not by the sensor count.